

1 PURPOSE

Energy Queensland Limited, its subsidiaries and its related bodies corporate (EQL) is committed to fostering high standards of conduct in its activities through the development of an ethical, lawful and transparent culture. Critical to this commitment is establishing and maintaining a framework to facilitate the reporting of wrongdoing and the protection of those who disclose wrongdoing.

In establishing and maintaining such a framework, EQL is required to comply with the whistleblower protection requirements under the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010 (Qld) (PID Act) and the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act).

The purpose of this Policy is therefore to set out the details of this framework and in doing so:

- encourage the reporting of Public Interest Disclosures (PIDs) under the PID Act and disclosures under the Corporations Act (Whistleblower Disclosures) about EQL's operations or an activity or incident that could adversely impact EQL;
- ensure that PIDs and Whistleblower Disclosures are properly dealt with, assessed and appropriately investigated (where necessary) and managed; and
- provide protection to Disclosers from Reprisal and/or Victimisation.

This Policy applies to EQL, its officers, employees and any other personnel notified that this Policy applies to them, including a secondee to EQL. However, if an equivalent policy of the seconded employee's employer creates an enforceable right, this policy will apply to that employee only to the extent that it can operate consistently with the equivalent policy.

1.1 What is a PID?

An Employee of EQL can make a disclosure about:

- corrupt conduct by another person;
- the conduct of another person that could, if provided be a Reprisal that relates to a previous disclosure made by the Employee.

In addition, any person can make a public interest disclosure under the PID Act to the 'proper authority' about information that is:

- a substantial and specific danger to the health or safety of a person with a disability;
- a substantial and specific danger to the environment;
- reprisal because of a belief that a person has made, or intends to make a disclosure.

1.2 What is a Whistleblower Disclosure?

A Whistleblower Disclosure under the Corporations Act is a particular disclosure that can be made:

- where the Discloser (Whistleblower) has reasonable grounds to suspect that the information concerns misconduct, or an improper state of affairs or circumstances, about EQL (including conduct that constitutes an offence against certain legislation such as the Corporations Act);
- by a present or past:
 - EQL Officer or Employee;
 - individual who supplies goods or services to EQL (paid or unpaid);

- employee of a person that supplies goods or services to EQL (paid or unpaid);
- individual who is an Associate of the regulated entity; or
- relative or dependent of any of the above persons (or their spouse);

Disclosures made under either the PID Act or the Corporations Act can be made anonymously.

1.3 Who can receive PIDs and Whistleblower Disclosures?

There are a range of EQL officers and persons who can receive and deal with PIDs and Whistleblower Disclosures. The identity of these EQL officers and persons will depend on whether the disclosure is made under the PID Act or the Corporations Act and the facts and nature of the alleged wrongdoing but can include the following:

• PID and Whistleblower Coordinator	• The Chief Executive Officer (CEO)
• Any person in a management position in EQL	• EQL's Integrity hotline (independently managed)
• An auditor, or member of an audit team conducting an audit of EQL	• The Company Secretary
• A member of the EQL Board	• Chairman (if not the subject of the complaint)

2 FRAMEWORK PRINCIPLES

In dealing with and managing PIDs and Whistleblower Disclosure EQL is committed to the principles:

• The proper and robust assessment and management of disclosures	• Keeping the Discloser informed
• Protecting and appropriately managing confidentiality	• Taking appropriate action in response to the wrongdoing
• Support and protection of the Discloser

2.1 Assessing a Disclosure

All disclosures are assessed and investigated where required on their merits based on the nature, extent and scope of conduct that has given rise to the complaint. This will be followed by appropriate disciplinary action, depending on the outcome of the investigation.

PIDs and Whistleblower Disclosures will be assessed in accordance with EQL's Whistleblower Procedure. All suspected Corrupt Conduct matters are referred to the Crime and Corruption Commission (CCC).

For all investigations, EQL will review systems, policies and procedures to identify whether there are improvements that can be made and consider if staff training is required.

2.2 Confidentiality

Under the PID Act and Corporations Act, EQL and any person who obtains information, as part of a Disclosure, must keep the identity of a Discloser and the information provided confidential, except in certain circumstances including where it is necessary to discharge a function under any law or legal proceedings and/or when it is unlikely that Detriment may occur.

This obligation to maintain confidentiality permits the involvement of other individuals only in certain circumstances. An Employee who has made a PID/ Whistleblower Disclosure in accordance with this Policy must maintain confidentiality to ensure the process is not compromised.

A Disclosure may, however, be made to other Employees who are authorised to know of the Disclosure, or who are involved in the investigation process (where this is otherwise permitted) under the PID Act. It could be a breach the PID Act and the Corporations Act and also this Policy and the Procedure if a person makes a record of, or intentionally or recklessly discloses information received in the administration of a PID or Whistleblower Disclosure investigation to anyone, except as authorised.

2.3 Support and Protection

EQL will not tolerate any form of Detrimental Action and/or Reprisal being suffered by any Discloser and/or Employee and will act to protect Employees who are involved in good faith in a PID and/or Whistleblower Disclosure process. See EQL's Procedure for information on how EQL protects Disclosers and Subject Officers.

A Subject Officer will be presumed to be innocent of any allegation until evidence is produced to the required standard of proof to show otherwise.

The PID Act and Corporations Act each contain offences in relation to Detrimental Action and Reprisal.

2.4 Public Interest Disclosure (PID) Management Program

This Policy and the Procedure forms part of EQL's PID Management program as required under the PID Act. The CEO has overall responsibility for ensuring that EQL develops, implements and maintains a PID management program which encompasses:

- commitment to encouraging the internal reporting of wrongdoing;
- senior management endorsement of the value to EQL of PIDs and the proper management of PIDs;
- a communication strategy to raise awareness among employees about PIDs and EQL's PID procedure;
- EQL actively includes ethics and integrity training pursuant to its Code of Conduct;
- specialist training and awareness about PIDs for staff who may receive or manage PIDs, disclosers or workplace issues relating to PIDs;
- the appointment of a specialist officer/unit to be responsible for issues related to the management of PIDs;
- ensuring effective systems and procedures are in place so that issues and outcomes from PIDs inform improvements to service delivery, business processes and internal controls;
- regular review of the PID Procedure and evaluation of the effectiveness of the PID management program.

2.5 False or misleading Information

Deliberately providing false or misleading information is an offence under the PID Act. EQL actively includes ethics and integrity training pursuant to its Code of Conduct.

PUBLIC INTEREST DISCLOSURE AND WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

2.6 Recordkeeping

EQL has an obligation under the PID Act and the Public Records Act 2002 (Qld) to keep accurate data about the receipt and management of PIDs.
